VOL. CXV. No. 22. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, MONDAY, JANUARY 26, 1914. PRICE 2 CENTS

TAX BILL CAUSE OF CONTENTION

When This Shall Have Been Settled, Legislature Will Proceed to Work.

BILL MAY PASS TODAY

Governor-Elect Stuart Still Firm in Opposition to Nominal Rate—Weaver Favors Compromise.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 26.—Prospects of a compromise on the money tax question that has been under discussion in the House of Delegates for several days, seemed bright last night, though leaders of both sides are standing out firmly for their views. It is conceded, however, that whether the tax be 20 or 25 cents, it is not a matter of vast importance. There will be a test vote as to whether or not it shall be collected as its source—the main bone of contention at present—and when that has been decided one way or the other, all factions will finally unite in the final passage of the bill, thus allowing it by the required four-fifths vote to take effect at once.

Governor-Elect Henry C. Stuart left the city yesterday to work on his inaugural address, the constant demands of his time while here having prevented the completion of that paper. Before leaving he said that his opinion as to the taxation of money was unchanged—he believes the rate of 25 cents on $100 to be the lowest that should be adopted.

Since the bankers believed last month that such good results would flow from the rate of 25 cents, Mr. Stuart took the ground that the effects would be equally marked at a rate of 10 cents less than the bankers themselves asked for a few weeks ago. Mr. Stuart agreed that he had agreed to a rate of 10 cents lower than the association demanded, in order to couple with it the self-collectable feature. He was, he said stating only his own opinion, recognizing that the matter is one for the General Assembly to decide.

From the best sources of information it would appear that there is now practically no disagreement as to rate, whether it be 20 or 25 cents, and that the House is about evenly divided on the subject of taxing at its source, though the majority against the issue is claimed by Mr. Weaver. Assurances have been given, however, that when a test vote has been taken and the bill comes up on its final passage, either with or without the taxing at the source provision, it will receive general support, and so be made to take effect in time to apply to the 1914 taxing period. The Senate has already passed the Echols bill at 10 cents, without any provision for collecting at the source, and is said to be very much opposed to that feature of the Jordan substitute. Advocates of the bill in the House believe that the Senate will agree to a 20 or 25-cent tax rate, to be collected as heretofore, and that a bill providing for that can be put on its passage in both houses and sent to the Governor for final approval within a day or two.

BYSTANDER IS KILLED.

New York Fruit Dealer Victim of Pistol Battle.

New York, Jan. 26.—Gangsters claimed another innocent victim here early today, when a stray bullet, fired during a battle between the "Galary," and O'Rourke gangs killed Israel Asofsky, thirty-three.

Two weeks ago, a bystander was killed during a fight between the same gangs. Today's engagement took place at Madison and Pike streets, where Asofsky kept a fruit stand.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Mrs. Josephine Bremser Amend, 40 years old, widow of Robert F. Amend, who was until his death, a short time ago, a member of a prominent drug importing firm, late last night jumped from the 12th floor window of the fashionable west side apartment house in which she lived and was instantly killed in New York.

George Lee Temple, ABritish aviator, was killed yesterday while flying at Herndon, England. He was making an especially difficult dive when a strong gust of wind caught the tail of his monoplane and the machine crashed to the ground. The aviator's neck was broken.

Lazarus I. Silverman, president of of a Chicago manufacturing concern, was electrocuted yesterday while using a small electrical massage machine in his bath. Silverman was dead when his son found him. On his chest with the motor running at top speed, lay the massage apparatus, the casing so hot it had burned the flesh. The machine was connected with an ordinary electric light.

Jan Olislaegers, the famous Antwerp aviator, yesterday looped the loop 67 times and turned seven somersaults backward in a Bleriot monoplane. Twenty thousand persons stood aghast at the performance, which was said to be the most perilous aeroplane feat ever accomplished.

Five persons were killed and possibly a score were injured last night, when Michigan Central passenger train No. 76 from Saginaw, collided head-on with a freight train about 3 miles outside of Jackson, Mich. The baggage car and one coach of the passenger train were telescoped, and every passenger in the coach was either killed or injured.

DEATH OF CAPT. THOMSON.

Member of Mosby's Command Dies At Clarendon.

Capt. E. F. Thomson, a member of Mosby's command, during the Civil War, died at his residence at Clarendon, Alexandria county, last Saturday of pneumonia, after an illness of about a week. He was 76 years old.

Capt Thomson was born in Fairfax county, Virginia, in 1837, and resided in that county until the opening of the Civil War, when he enlisted in the command of Col. M. D. Ball, which was stationed in Alexandria at the time of its capture by Union troops when Capt. Ellsworth was killed. With other Confederates captured at that time he was sent to a military prison at Baltimore, Md., and upon his exchange he again entered the service of the Confederate army with Gen. Rosser's command.

He was promoted for bravery and assigned to the command of Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, after which he was assigned with the rank of captain to Mosby's command, participating in all of the fights under that dashing cavalry leader of the Valley of Virginia until the close of the war. He enjoyed the fullest confidence of Col. Mosby.

Some time after the war he became a resident of Alexandria county, where he took an active part in its public affairs. He became a justice of the peace about sixteen years ago, which position he held to the time of his death. He was also a member of the county Democratic committee.

Shortly after the war Captain Thomson married Miss Lucy Green of Frederick, Md., who, with nine children and one grandson, survive him, Misses Lula, Agnes, Genevieve, Mrs. Bernard Dent Newland, Messrs. Paul W. Al. K., Stuart F., Lee, George and Roger Newland, all of them residing in Alexandria county.

Capt. Thomson was a member of St. Charles' Catholic Church, of Clarendon, Va., from which funeral services will be held on tomorrow morning. His five sons, with Mr. Nicholas Hill, will act as pallbearers. Burial will be made in Mount Olivet cemetery, Washington.

The bar of Alexandria county met this morning to pass resolutions on the death of Capt. Thomson and as a further mark of respect Judge J. B. T. Thornton, of the Circuit Court, of Alexandria county will adjourn the court at Fairfax today to enable the attorneys and court officials to attend the funeral.

PAST MASTERS HOLD MEETING

Robt. S. Crump Made President of Association For Ensuing Year.

INSPIRING LECTURE.

Grand Banquet is Given at Close of Session—Interesting Speeches Delivered by Members.

Richmond, Jan. 26.—The annual meeting of the Past Masters' Association of Vrginia, held in the Masonic Temple on Saturday night, was largely attended by members of the Masonic fraternity, who are or have been masters of lodges This association is a lodge, as it may be called, composed only of Masons who have reached the chair in the East. Like the Grand Lodge of Virginia, its meetings are held once a year, unless called gatherings are at other times made necessary.

The meeting was presided over by D. C. Kennedy. The address of the president was in the nature of an inspiring lecture, with the tents of the order of Masonry for the theme, and was heard with close attention. The business was transacted in short order, winding up with the election and installation of officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows: President, Robert S. Crump, past master of Lodge No. 40; vice-president, William A. James, of No. 19; secretary and treasurer, John B. Welsh, of No. 19; sergeant-at-arms, Herbert L. Hulce, of No. 11. These officers were installed by Past Master and ex President John R. Charlton.

When the meeting closed, the past masters marched to the banquet hall, where supper was served. President Kennedy presiding, and acting as toastmaster. The speeches, that came along with coffee and cigars, differed from the usual after-dinner variety, in that they were not solely of the jovial and funmaking kind, but the speakers discussed in an earnest manner, with a sufficiency of wit and humor thrown in for spice, the benevolent enterprises of the Masonic fraternity and the work that is ahead, dealing largely with the Masonic orphanage, the proposed old men's home and other institutions and other work dear to the hearts of Virginia Masons.

The speakers were Past Masters Wallace Blanks, of Petresburg; John R. Charlton, W. A. James, L. T. Christian, L. Z. Morris, F. T. Sutton, Augustine Royall, Clyde H. Ratcliffe and W .W. Field, the representative in the House of Delegates from the counties of Madison and Greene.

"HEART THROB" VERSES.

Volume of Former Alexandrian Will Appear Soon.

Messrs. Stewart and Company, publishers of New York, will bring out shortly a volume of distinctly "heart-throb" verses by William Francis Evans, of Washington, D. C., of which Mr. Palmer Cox, creator of the famous "Brownies," says in his introduction to it: "They breathe of home and the pleasant memories that cluster about it. The one who cannot see something in such reading, for either youth or age, needs attention from more than the family physician."

Mr. Evans, now a resident of Washington, was born and raised in Alexandria, Virginia. He is a painter in oils and pastels of no mean ability who has exhibited at various State and International Expositions and won many diplomas for his work. Some of poems have appeared in various newspapers of the country, and in some of the magazines.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. DARST.

The following well-deserved tribute to the late Mrs. Florence Wise Darst, wife of the Rev. Thomas C. Darst, of Newport News, appears in the Daily Press, of that city, of January 14th:

The large congregation at St. Paul's Episcopal church last evening, including visiting clergymen from other parishes and from other denominations, was a noble tribute to the memory of Mrs. Florence Wise Darst, beloved wife of the Rev. Thomas C. Darst, whose death was announced in the Daily Press of yesterday. It was also an expression of the affectionate regard of this people without regard to denominational distinctions, for the beloved husband and his family.

It is hard to associate death with a woman like Mrs. Darst. Young and vivacious, ruddy and cheerful, she went in and out amongst us with a countenance lighted by smiles, her person and her personality being the highest expression of life and the joy of living.

The sudden taking off of such a woman, lovely in form and feature, refined in spirit, lovable in disposition, consecrated to Christianity, faithful to the duties of womanhood, devoted to husband and children, loving and dutiful to parents, true to herself and to all the obligations of a woman in her station and circumstances, is sufficient proof in itself of the immortality of the soul, of the resurrection of the dead, and the life of the world to come. It can not be that a creature of that type, made in the image of God, can be snuffed out as a candle and its glorious light darkened forever. It must be, as the preacher so impressively read at the funeral, "This corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality."

DEATH NOTICE.

The death of George Dallas Peyton occurred this morning at 4:40, after a lingering illness. Funeral at his residence, 208 Duke street, Wednesday afternoon 3:00. (Washington papers please copy.)

HUERTA REGIME NEARING AN END

President Wilson Will Lay His Plans Before Senate Committee.

PROTECT AMERICANS.

Lind Refuses to Endorse Movement to Make De La Barra Successor to Mexican President.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Believing that President Huerta's regime in Mexico is on the eve of a collapse, President Wilson, it is said, will lay before the Senate committee of Foreign Relations, this evening, plans which he has mapped out for the protection of American and foreigners in Mexico when the collapse occurs.

The President is expected to tell the members of the committee that with the arrival at Vera Cruz today of the battleship Minnesota the U. S. will have immediate available as a landing party about 900 marines and several hundred bluejackets. With this force it is believed that the railway between Mexico City and Very Cruz could be guarded until such time that the re-inforcements could arrive.

In the West Indies ,a force of 2,000 marines is at present going through advance base maneuvers .

These could be got to Vera Cruz in five days. Carrying them would be five battleships of the Atlantic fleet, who could furnish in addition about 2,000 bluejackets for landing purposes, thus making the total expeditionary force upward of 7,000.

Vera Cruz, Jan. 26.—Apparently failing in his mission to obtain, through John Lind, Washington's approval of Huerta's project to take the field against the rebels and name Francisco de la Barra as his successor, Jesus Flores Magon, is on his way back to Mexico City, supposedly to consult his principals.

In a bad humor, and seemingly much trouble Magon hurried from Vera Cruz late last night, bitterly assailing the pres s for his failure.

"The newspapers, with their premature reports spoiled the plan," Magon said.

It was the first time he had admitted his mission unreservedly. Lind has not admitted the object of his conferences with Magon. Foreign Minister Moheno, in Mexico City, denied that Magon represented the Huerta government.

It is understood that the hitch in the negotiations came when Huerta stipulated that he be considered by President Wilson as an eligible candidate at the next election.

John Lind was aboard the Dolphin yesterday and last night in conference with Rear Admiral Fletcher.

The battleship Minnesota, with 400 marines from Panama, is due here tonight.

He made a strong appeal and was given close attention by the large congregation.

ANOTHER FIRE IN WASHINGTON

Great Excitement Around Burning Building—Women on Upper Floor.

KEPT FROM JUMPING.

Reach Cold Street Clothed in Night Garments—Blaze Starts From an Overheated Latrobe Stove.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Trapped by flames which made escape impossible, three half clad women had to be carried down ladders during a fire which swept the house at 1311 C street N.W. about 5 o'clock this morning.

Pearl Howard was about to jump from a third story window when Lieut. Thomas and Private Posey, of No. 3 Truck Company, raised a ladder and shoved her back from the window ledge with the top of the ladder, grabbed the woman just as she was making a second attempt to jump, and carried her to safety.

Gladys Ryan and Eva Wilson were carried down the ladders from a second-story window. Shivering in the early morning cold they were hurried to a nearby house where clothes were given them.

Starting in the basement from an overheated latrobe, the flames rapidly spread up a stairway and swept every room in the house.

The flames soon spread so rapidly through the house that it was impossible for the women to get out in the halls. The third floor was veloped in flames and the [illegible] woman was badly burned on the in getting to the window.

The fire caused much excitement in the neighborhood and a large crowd had gathered in front of the house before the firemen got the ladders up and were yelling to the women not to jump.

INVITATION TO WILSON

Committee Invite President to Visit Alexandria February 22nd

President Wilson was invited today to come to Alexandria February 23 and witness the parade which will be given that day under the auspices of the George Washington Birthday Association. The invitation was extended by a committee headed by Representative C. C. Carlin.

President Wilson told the members of the committee that he had promised the Union League Club, of Chicago, to address that body on Washington's birthday, but added that if he does not go he will join the Alexandrians in their celebration.

The committee also waited on Secretary of War Garrison and he accepted the invitation to attend, as did Assistant Secretary of Nav Roosevelt. Secretary of Navy, Daniels, however, will be unable to be here on that occasion.

Gen. Henry T. Allen, chief of staff, U. S. A. accepted the offer to be chief marshall of the parade.

Assurances were given the committee that troops from Fort Washington, Fort Hunt and Fort Myer and the Washington barracks will be here on that occasion, together with several batallions of marines and several companies of sailors. The U. S. Marine band and the Annapolis Band will also come here.

Chief Wagner, of the Washington Fire Department, promised to have that department represented in the parade.

Scout Commissioner Martin, of the District of Columbia Boy Scouts, also promised to have a number of the Scouts take part.

Among those invited were the District Commissioners, the Washington High School Cadets, Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias and District National Guard, will also be represented in the parade.

It is probable that GovernorElect Stuart and staff, of Virginia, will take part. Should they do so, the Richmond Light Infantry Blues will probably come here as their escort.

BIG CROWD AT SURPRISE

S. C. Kendall Delivers Interesting Address on Christ's Second Coming, Why, How, When?

The second one of a series of four lectures under the auspices of the International Bible Student's Association was given last night at the Surprise Theatre in this city by S. C. Kendall, of Washington, D. C. The speaker said in part:

"It must be evident to every earnest thoughtful reader of the New Testament scriptures that our Lord intended His disciples to understand that at some time, in some manner and for some purpose he would come again; that while the Lord had assured them that He would always be with them in loving interest, care and oversight, many texts were cited to prove an actual, personal return to earth. That the apostles were firm believers in this doctrine was evidenced by the fact that in all their writings not less than one verse in every ten referred more or less directly to it. To them it was that "Blessed Hope" and their every reference showed that it completely filled their hearts and was the dominating influence of their lives.

"In more recent times," declared the speaker," the subject had become somewhat unpopular by reason of foolish theories and spectacular views sometimes presented, but that a close and careful study must convince every candid mind that it is indeed the one great event to which all creation moves," quoting 2d Tim. 4-1.

It was pointed out that the object of the Lord's second coming was to establish His kingdom for which we are still praying. "Thy Kingdom Come," and that the work of this Kingdom would be the judging of the world in righteousness and that the church, which is now being judged, will be joint heirs with Christ in the kingdom. This judgment will constitute a trial for life and a decision based upon that trial. This is the legitimate fruits of Christ's redemption work at his first advent. The glorious outcome will be "The restitution of all things." Acts 3-19-21 The speaker then made the remarkable statement that he believed the manner of the Lord's return would be just as different from what many expected as would be the object. That our Lord's statement that "They would see the Son of Man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory" was highly figurative language, and that the real manner of His coming was accurately expressed in his words "Behold I come as a thief," for had he not said, "A little while and the world seeth me no more " Being born of the spirit in His resurrection, He is invisible to human sight only when appearing in a body of flesh as He sometimes did after His resurrection. The speaker asserted his belief that in this manner the Lord would return to earth with His saints, then changed to His glorious likeness and that the progress of His kingdom work would gradually reveal His presence to the world. That for a thousand years this work will continue until "All the families of the earth have been blessed." Gen. 22-18.

In closing the speaker said it was not his purpose to treat the matter of the time of the second coming on a chronological standpoint, as time would not permit, but he asserted that many Bible students, who had made the book a careful study, were convinced that great dispensational changes were at hand. Daniel's prophecy, "That in the time of the end many would run to and fro and knowledge be increased," and many other noted events are signs that mark His coming

NOT GUILTY OF CHARGE.

At a meeting of the fire committee of the City Council Saturday night, Everett G. Rogers, of the Columbia Company, was found not guilty of the charge of bringing beer in the engine house, and the charge of being absent from duty was dismissed, as a doctor's certificate was presented. Wm. B. Bontz, engineer of the Reliance Engine Company, was given a reprimand for an infraction of the rules.

We illustrate the two new designs which we are now featuring. Westate without hesitation that they are values such as seldom found at the prices—due to large purchases.

Pullman Runabout, ... $32.50
Pullman Sleeper, ... $25.00

Both of these Carriages have the turntable gear, a new feature in Baby Carriage construction; a device made on an easy working principle that turns the body of the carriage entirely, thus allowing the infant to face or look away from you as desired, and protect it from the sun or objectionable weather conditions.

These carriage are made of reed, in white, gray, natural and brown removable cushion; the sliding hod is upholstered in green material, which has proved most restful to the eyes of the infant; fitted with a removable curtain or windshield. The gear is of steel tubular construction, and the wheel are the new artillery type; strong, flexible springs and wheel brake.

THE UNITED STATES AND THE MIKADO.

The Japanese question seems hard to down. The chronic issue between the United States and Nippon on the Californian alien law is again causing some people uneasiness and adding prestige to the advocates of an increased navy. Like other national epidemics, it will have its nine days' course and give way to other more important matters.

During the past few days some newspapers, ever on the alert for the sensational, have seized certain words of Japanese diplomats and by the aid of their powerful miscroper have made mountains out of molehills.

Japan has no intention of attacking this country, although such a possibility seems to disturb the dreams of some.

Baron Makino, the Japanese foreign minister, has made a supplementary statement to the Japanese parliament to show that, according to the Japanese understanding, there is perfect harmony and purpose between the United States and Japan in negotiations to settle the California land legislation question.

According to the transcript of his remarks, made public by the Japanese embassy in Washington, the minister said:

"It is the purpose of the imperial government to settle the question in as advantageous manner as possible and I believe the American government is taking measures of investigation looking to a settlement by the most just methods."

The statement was made by Baron Makino in answer to a formal interpellation apparently framed to dissipate impressions possibly created by previous intimations that Japan resented the failure of the United States to reply to the last note in regard to the California situation.

Japan is believed to desire a new treaty specifically recognizing the right of Japanese in the United States to hold and lease real property on equal terms with other foreigners. Such a treaty will invalidate the California law and similar state legislation, but whether the Senate would ratify a convention of this character even if presented, forms another angle to the problem.

WINTRY WEATHER THIS WEEK.

Moderate Cold Wave For First Days Predicted.

A varied assortment of wintry weather for the different sections of the country is the forecast by the Weather Bureau for the coming week.

"The week will open with generally unsettled weather, except in the east, the Central Rocky Mountain region and the extreme southwest," said the bulletin, and there will be a moderate cold wave in New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

"A disturbance now over the Plains States will move eastward, attended by general snows over the Northern, snows and rains over the Central and rains over the southern districts from the Missouri and Mississippi Valleys, eastward and by somewhat higher temperatures, generally reaching the Atlantic Coast Monday or Tuesday night.

"This disturbance will be followed by fair weather for a day or two, but another marked disturbance now on the North Pacific coast will cause a continuance of the rains and snows west of the Rocky Mountains and their extension eastward, probably reaching the Rocky Mountains Tuesday, the Plains States Tuesday night or Wednesday, the Central Valleys and the Lake region Wednesday and Thursday and the Eastern States by Friday.

"It will be followed by clearing weather and more winter temperatures, beginning by Tuesday over the central portion of the country and by the close of the week over the East. After the rains of Monday and Tuesday in the South, fair weather will follow, probably until near the end of the week, and moderate temperatures are now indicated."

HANGS SELF TO ESCAPE TRIAL.

Joseph Ardzinski Was Charged With Assaulting Girl.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 26.—Preferring death to defending himself from a serious accusation made against him by a young girl, Joseph Ardzinski, 48 years old, ended his life by hanging himself to a bed post in his room at 1518 Eastern Avenue Saturday night. Two weeks ago Ardzinski was arrersted on a warant charging him with assaulting Miss Mary Colewski, 1620 Thames street.

He was given a preliminary hearing and was released on bail for court. Three days ago he was indicted by the grand jury and his trial was scheduled for Thursday. Ardzinski, after his indictment went among his friends seeing information about court procedure.

According to his wife, Mrs. Josephine Arzdinski, her husband had been despondent since his indictmen. He declared that he was innocent. Mrs. Ardzinski went to her husband's room at midnight Saturday and found him dead with the rope about his neck.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Hair tonic, which prison officials say they drank to satisfy a craving for alcohol, caused the death tonight of Charles Harris and Charles Reitz, each 24 years old ,and serving sentences in the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia for burglary. The men are said to have obtained the liquid from one of the prison barbers this afternoon on the plea that they wished to "fix up" for some visitors.

The revolutionary movement in Haiti, grows stronger day by day. All the towns in the north are in arms against the government and several of the most important places have been captured by the revolutionists.

About 300 boats, among them high-speed motor craft, power cruiser yachts, sloops, and launches, were lost yesterday in a $250,000 fire, which completely destroyed the plant of the Stationery Marine Engine, Motor and Supply Company, of Port Washington, Long Island.

The long-continued cold, especially in the central districts of France, is bringing numbers of wolves, frantic with hunger, out of the woods. A little girl returning from school at La Coquoquille, near Perigueux, was devoured by wild animals, the searching parties finding only a torn pinafore and a few bones.

As a result of a mistake by a nurse two children at the Utica Orphan Asylum at Utica, N. Y., are dead and four others are in a critical condition. There is an epidemic of measles in the institution. On Saturday a nurse gave some of the children poison in mistake for a laxative, and yesterday two died.

The degree was conferred by Daniel J. Griffin, of Brooklyn, N. Y., past state deputy, assisted by State Deputy James H. Bailey, of Petersburg, and District Deputy Dr. E. A. Gorman, of Alexandria, Va. Past Deputy Griffin is a member of Congress from New York. The visiting Knights were the guests of Petersburg Council, Knights of Columbus, at a dinner last night.

DESPERATE LOVER.

Refused Kiss by Sweetheart Prominent Savannah Clubman Commits Suicide.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 26—Refused a kiss by his sweetheart, Neal Palmer, a prominent young clubman, shot himself to death yesterday afternoon at "Thunderbolt," an amusement resort near Savannah. In company with his fiancee, Miss Essie Andrews, and two other young men and girls. Palmer had motored out to Thunderbolt. The members of the party were in joyous mood, and Palmer asked Miss Andrews to kiss him.

"You must be crazy," she laughingly replied.

"You won't kiss me?" asked Palmer.

"I can't here," the girl replied.

Without another word, Palmer drew a pistol from his pocket and shot himself through the heart, falling dead at the firl's fet. Miss Andrews is prostrated, and bitterly reproaches herself for not kissing Palmer.

PERISH IN STORM.

Heavy Property Loss to Fishing Schooners Reported all Along Coast.

Boston, Jan. 26.—Reports from all along the New England coast today, indicate that the storm, which has been sweeping northern New England and Nova Scotia, cost four lives, separated more than a score of men from their ships, and, in some instances, resulted in heavy money loss.

The schooners Pontiac and Joseph Mullin lost a man each and the schooner Alice cannot account for two of her crew. The Gloucester fishing schooner Selma was the last wreck reported. She was a total loss off Meagher's Beach, east of Halifax. The crew was saved by the Government steamer, Lady Laurier.

The fishing schooner Bay State limped into Gloucester badly damaged. A half dozen other fishing schooners have reached port reporting the worst storm of the winter.

SHOT OVER LAWSUIT.

Plaintiff Wounds Son of Witness Who Testified Against Him.

King and Queen Courthouse, Va., Jan. 26.—A shooting affair occurred at Ino, in this county, Friday in which Cloton Gardner was very desperately wounded by William M. Smith. Smith has a lawsuit with a neighbor over a boundary line, and Gardner's father was a witness against Smith. Smith is reported to have been abusive toward the older Gardner in the presence of young Gardner. The father and son went to Smith's store to ask him about the matter, and Smith is said to have ordered them out of his place. The Gardners are said to have started to leave, when Smith raised his pistol and fired at young Gardner, the ball entering his abdomen and perforating the intestines in a number of places. Smith has not been arrested, but is reported to be still at his home.

JUDGE UPHOLDS DRY LAW.

U. S. Court Refuses to Force Express Company to Receive Liquor Shipments.

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 26.—In order to circumvent a North Carolina statute, which prevents the shipment of liquor into the counties of Mitchell, Avery, Rutherford, Cherokee, Macon and Jackson, and the towns of High Point, Morehead City, Trinity, James town, Guilford college, Friendship and Chapel Hill, an effort was made in chambers here to secure from Judge McDowell of the Federal district court, a mandatory injunction, requiring the Southern Express company to receive at Bristol, Va., liquors intended for personal use in those communities. Judge McDowell, however, held his court lacked jurisdiction and the application was denied.

Since December 1st the express company has been declining shipments because of the North Carolina statute in connection with the Webb federal law. It is claimed that the shipment in the case was not in violation of the federal law and for that reason North Carolina can not prevent a shipment that is not prohibited by the federal statue.

It is probable that the Bristol Distributing Company, the complainant in the case will seek relief in the Bristol Corporation court and appeal from the Interstate Supreme Court to the Federal Supreme in order to have that tribunal rule on the constitutionality of the North Carolina statute.

ACCEPTS RICHMOND CALL.

Rev. Thomas C. Darst Will Assume Duties February 22nd.

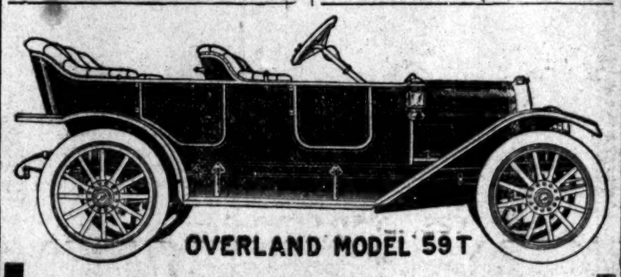
Richmond, Jan. 26.—Rev. Thomas C. Darst, who tendered his resignation as rector of St. John's Church, Newport News, a few days ago, has announced that he will assume his duties as associate rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, of Richmond, February 22nd. His resignation is effective February 14th.

Mr. Darst will come to this city to assist Rev. William Meade Clark, D. D., rector of St. James' Church, who has been in ill health for several months. It is believed that with the assistance of the Newport News minister, Dr. Clark will soon again regain his strength.

The new associate rector is well known in this city, having been rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, First and Clay streets, for several years. He went from this charge to Newport News in December, 1909.

Since he accepted the call to Newport News Mr. Darst has done excellent work. He has reduced the church debt $2,500, almost doubled the membership of the Sunday school, and increased the offerings for missions almost 100 per cent.

An unprecedented fall of snow has almost buried Virginia City and Comstock district of Nevada. In Virginia City the snow is so deep that tunnels have been dug from the street to the entrance of buildings. Electric linemen are using snow shoes instead of olimbers to reach the top of poles which show above the surface of the snow. Business of all kinds is at an absolute standstill.



OVERLAND MODEL 59T

You Think They Are Different—But Are They?

Too many people are fooled or misled by taking bare automobile prices as a positive indication of the intrinsic value of a car. This is exactly the wrong way to go about. Because one article is priced higher than another it does not follow that this article has a greater value.

As a matter of fact there are any number of $1,200 cars which are not, in value, the equal of the $950 Overland.

For instance:

The $950 Overland has a wheel base of 114 inches.

The wheel base of the average $1,200 car is no longer than this—often shorter. So in this respect you get more for $950 than you do for $1,200.

The $950 Overland has a powerful 35 horsepower motor.

No $1,200 car has a larger motor than this. Here is equal value, and in most cases, more value for less money.

The $950 Overland tires are 33 inches x 4 inches—all around.

No $1,200 car has larger tires—Again—equal value—our price $250 less.

The $950 Overland has a complete set of electric lights—throughout—the same as on most $1,200 cars. Some out of date cars still cling to the obsolete gas lamps. In the first instance the $950 electrically lighted Overland is the equal value of the $1,200 car, and in the second instance has more value than the $1,200 (gas lamp) car. In either case our price is $250 less.

Next comes the matter of equipment. The $950 Overland is complete—a jeweled speedometer, top, curtains, boot, windshield, electric horn—everything complete. No $1,200 car has more complete or better equipment.

And so on, throughout the car. Point for point—specification for specification, the $950 Overland is, in every essential respect, the equal of any $1,200 car on the market.

So we warn you. Ignor the prices. Compare the actual facts first. Then compare the facts with the prices and you get the intrinsic value.

There will be 50,000 Overland cars made this year—the largest production of its kind in the world. And every Overland purchaser will save at least 30 per cent, and get a superior car.
